GERMANS TO SUBMIT NEW OFFER TO ALLIES

Reconstruction Scheme Will be Central Point of Proposal

TREATY REVISION

Briand Tells Deputies France Must Take Grave Step Soon —Commons Passes Bill.

Berlin, March 19.—The German Government looks forward to meeting the Allied Premiers at a new conference on reparations, with a full program for the payment of Germany's war bill. Instead of having only a figure to offer as the limit which the Berlin Government can pay, the Germans will present to the Allies a comprehensive plan of payment.

The Government remains firm in its conviction that the penalties imposed by the Allies must be endured. Even should the blockade of German ports be re-established by the Entente fleets, Germany expects to hold out. The Minister of Food had advised Chancellor Fehrenbach that the country's food supply will last till the next harvest without difficulty and that there may be a surplus.

Dr. Walter Simons, Foreign Minister, reviewing the situation before the tariff committee of the National Economic Council, gave an outline of the proposed plan, saying:

"A reconstruction scheme must be made the central point of Germany's new proposals to the Allies. The payment of the war indebtedness must rest on that idea. A detailed plan for the restoration of the destroyed districts of Northern France must be drawn up. But even that will not be sufficient to get the European economic system out of the slough in which it is caught.

"We must find other means of alleviating, if possible, France's urgent needs for capital. That can be done only with German labor, which can be pledged as security for a loan with which to meet France's financial need.

"On these points we must make preparations so that, when the time

Maccabees Meeting

State Officers Here Monday to Discuss State Convention Plans

A number of state officers are scheduled to attend a meeting of the Maccabees which will be held Monday night. Among those expected are State Supreme Commander J. R. Turner of Norfolk and State Lecturer A. L. Lucas of Richmond. The local tent has the recognized champion degree team in Virginia. Only once has the team met defeat and then the race was exceedingly close.

During the winter months this team has been actively preparing to retain their laurels at the state convention in Norfolk next June when the team will enter into competition with other teams in Virginia for first prize.

At Monday night's meeting the visiting officers will explain the plans under way for the state convention in June.

Alexandria Tent of Maccabees is reported to be in a very prosperous condition and its meetings are interesting so many that a good attendance is nearly always present. Arrangements are being made for the annual banquet of the local tent which will be held next May. Among the guests on this occasion will be several state officers and members of the Woman's Benefit Association of Maccabees.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY

"Miss Hobbs" was greeted by a large and appreciative audience in the High School auditorium last night and the enthusiasm of the greeting was well deserved.

Some commendation must be made of those members of the cast who were not mentioned in yesterday's Gazette.

As Miss Susan Abbey, the maiden aunt, Miss Dorothy Steele gave a most excellent interpretation of the character, an interpretation showing rare intelligence and deep thought and remarkable for one of her tender years.

The bosom friend of "Miss Hobbs," Miss Millicent Farey, was well acted by Miss Cecilia Murphy. Miss Murphy has a style and manner all her own and very charming.

It was a pleasure to see the way in which Miss Esther Lambert entered into the character of Beula (Mrs. Percival Kingsearl). Her quarrel with Percival, the husband who objected to "those new women" and "beastly bloomer things," was very well done.

Miss Lucy Houston as Jane, Miss Hobb's maid, was tres petite and tres jolie as our friends in La Belle France would say.

There must be a captain on every ship and the "Good Chance" was ably commanded by Mr. Ralph Fair, as Captain Sands. Mr. Fair's voice was especially well adapted to his part and he read his lines well—in spite of the fog.

The stage setting of "Miss Hobbs" was in each and every act pleasing to the eye. The room scenes were aesthetic, cozy, and homelike. The setting for the cabin of the yacht "Good Chance" was especially good and reflected credit upon its designer and creator, Mr. Jack Dinwiddie.

On the whole the Alexandria High School has reason to be proud of its latest dramatic production and of the Seniors who gave time, effort and talent toward making it a success.

The play will be repeated in the High School auditorium tonight a quarter after eight. Receipts for all three performances are to go towards the completion of the long needed, much desired, and still unfinished track.

"The Crucifixion"

Choir of St. Paul's Church to Give Cantata Monday Night

As previously announced in the Gazette on Monday evening at 8 o'clock the choir of St. Paul's Episcopal Church will sing Stainer's "The Crucifixion" The principal solos of this cantata are assigned to the tenor and bass and these will be sung by two of our local singers, Stephen Field and Arthur Bryant, who have been doing such excellent work in the quartet at St. Paul's this season.

The other soloists who have smaller parts and the other two members of the quartet, Miss Esther Schmeh and Mrs. Sherman B. Fowler, and the second bass part will be sung by Lt. Golmetle.

A number of former members of the choir will be present and assist in the chorus, which is always a feature of the work of St. Paul's choir. At the offertory, which will be for the choir fund, Mr. Merrill Beagle will play a violin solo.

The production will be under the direction of the organist and director of the choir, Sherman B. Fowler. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come and hear this the most popular Lenten cantata.

Memorial Church

Rev. E. L. Hunt to Address Mass Meeting at Richmond Theatre Tomorrow Afternoon

The plan of George Washington for the Nation's Capital will be fulfilled by America's Memorial Church, a memorial to the stars of gold and of blue in America's Service Flag. The pastor, Rev. Edward Lawrence Hunt will bring to the meeting Sunday at 3 P. M., a copy of the original map of the District by Major L'Enfant drawn at the direction of Washington, in which there is provision for a National Church such as this church will erect there.

As the plan and purpose is of unusual interest to the Masonic fraternity, there will be seats reserved for them and their families until a few minutes before 3 P. M. Tickets have not been issued. They are asked to tell the ushers they would like seats in that section. Roman Catholics will be equally welcome.

At the Palm Sunday service here the pastor of every church in Alexandria is invited to have a seat on the platform, and to take a brief part in the brief service which will not be more than an hour.

The Trustees of America's Memorial Church include United States Senator Capper of Kansas, Senator Harreld of Okla., Congressman James W. Husted and Colonel Rhinelander Waldo of New York, and others who command the confidence of the nation. Those who have spoken at meetings of the Church include, Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt Candidate for the Vice-Presidency, Secretary Theodore Roosevelt, now Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Champ Clark, Senator McKellar of Tenn., Senator Reed of Missouri, Senator Hoke Smith Governor Yates of Ill., General Pershing, and other national leaders.

It is expected that the meeting in Alexandria which is redolent with the spirit of George Washington will be largely attended by an audience enthusiastic over the fact that the purpose of Washington, neglected for over a century, is to be fulfilled following the campaign in which the spirit of Washington played a greater part than in any since his day, for both parties appealed to him as never before.

The use of the Richmond theatre for this patrictic and united religious service is donated by the Alexandria Amusement Company.

CHAMBERLAIN MAY BE LAW'S SUCCESSOR

London Speculating on What Must Follow

IRISH POLICY FACTOR

Reported That Hamar Greenwood's Term as Chief Secretary of Ireland Is near End.

London, March 19.—J. Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, has a clear lead over Sir Robert Stevenson Horne and the Earl of Derby for the leadership of the Conservative party, to succeed Andrew Bonar Law, who resigned yesterday from political life. The new leader will be selected Monday.

As the country recovers from surprise over Premier Lloyd George's announcement of the retirement of his ablest political lieutenant, speculation begins regarding the development which must follow Bonar Law's compulsory desertion of the coalition.

There are some persons who refuse to accept the explanation that broken health was the only reason for Bonar Law's sudden decision to resign, although it is true that these doubting Thomases are chiefly numbered among the opposition. They believe that an unsatisfactory Irish situation was partly responsible. Both the leading Irish newspapers express this opinion. The Liberal and Labor press and leaders of both parties assert that the life of the Lloyd George coalition government has been materially shortened by the resignation.

The Irish policy unquestionably is being reconsidered, and whatever change is made it is a safe guess that it won't be in the direction of further repressive measures. Rumors continue to circulate that Hamar Greenwood's term as Chief Secretary for Ireland is almost at an end.

With the Ulster parliamentary elections only a month off and Sinn Feiners planning to contest seats in the very heart of Sir Edward Carson's stronghold, and with Southern Ireland more disrupted than it was six months ago, there is every reason why Lloyd George should be desirous of changing his Irish policy or at least of making a gesture which the outside world would interpret as generous on the part of England.

Both Chamberlain and Sir Robert are more moderate than Bonar Law regarding Ireland, buf they are not his equal at effecting compromises. If the Premier decides to change his Irish policy, it is a question whether Bonar Law's successor can hold in line the Unionists whose attitude has been steadily growing more threatening toward Lloyd George.

If such an election came about it would bring sweeping changes in Government policies. Not only would the stand toward Ireland be altered, but relations with Germany and other foreign countries would be revised. The Labor party would make considerable gains in a general election, while Lloyd George could hardly hope to obtain enough personal followers to control a majority in the House of Commons. The Conservatives probably would lose many seats. These shiftings would mean a larger measure of influence for Labor in the new coalition.

Special Music

Maunder's "Penitence, Pardon and Peace" to be Rendered at Christ Church Tomorrow Night

Maunder's "Penitence, Pardon and Peace" which will be sung by Christ Church choir, Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, is rendered under the direction of Dr. James Dickinson.

The best music of any oratorion of cantata is in the chorus; the solo parts being simply embellishments In training a chorus the director must have the ability to train them as one voice. The attacks, shading, finish and climaxes must be blended in such a way that no one individual voice is dominant.

In Mr. Dickinson, Christ Church has a man who is a thorough musician. Starting as a chorister at five years of age and later receiving his degree of Mus. Doc. at Victoria College, London, England. At present he is organist and choirmaster at St. Johns Church, Washington, D. C., and also director of Christ Church choir, Alexandria. If the rehearsals are any criterion to go by, the singing of Christ Church choir will compare favorably with any of the high paid professional choirs.

Parker Gray School

Drive Yields $903.25 Thus Far—Maps Received and Placed in School Rooms

The much needed and long looked for maps have come and are placed in position in our school rooms. They are not only things of beauty, but are very, very serviceable.

These maps were purchased through our home firm, Messrs. R. E. Knight and Son, who saw that the school received just what was ordered.

The teachers and pupils are highly pleased with them.

We are very much in need of globes and rubber tipped pointers for use with our maps and chart, and as soon as we are able will procure them.

The unveiling of the portraits of John F. Parker and the late Sarah A. Gray will take place in the auditorium of the Parker Gray School Sunday afternoon, April 24th.

Special speaking, excellent music, both instrumental and vocal, will be the order of the event.

The secretary's report of money collected and expended will be rendered.

This association has placed the following in the school: 362 chairs in the assembly room, 11 costumers, 6 waste paper baskets, 1 walnut bookcase, 1 oak teacher's desk, 1 reading and phonic charts, 29 patent roller maps with fixtures, 2 large flash lights, 1 porcelain top table, 1 aluminum tea kettle and 1 small electric stove.

The teachers are always pleased to have parents visit the school and are eager for suggestions to better the conduct and advancement of their children. The superintendent and teachers would like the parents to visit the school often and cooperate with the teachers. Their visits would encourage the children to know that you have that much interest in their welfare. Don't wait until you have a grievance. Come now and often.

CAPTURE THREE YOUNG BURGLARS

One of Trio Is Shot By Police as He Flees

IS BADLY WOUNDED

Men Broke Into Store of Julius Wolf —Place Quickly Surrounded by Police and Men Captured

As the result of an effort to burglarize the clothing store of Julius Wolf, 425 King street, one of three young white men, all strangers, was shot when he made a dash for freedom after the police were closing in on him last night. The man shot gives the name of William Smith, 21 years old, and told the police his home is in Richmond, Va.

The other men taken in custody gave the names of John Harris, nineteen years old, who claims to hail from Richmond and the third man gives the name of Oscar Gantt, seventeen years old, and says his home is in Norfolk.

Smith immediately following the shooting was rushed to the Alexandria Hospital in a police patrol by Sergt. Campbell and treated by Dr. M. D. Delaney. An examination disclosed that one of the bullets passed through the right side of his back above the kidneys and the second wound is in the abdomen. Dr. Delaney stated this morning that the man has a fighting chance provided there are no complications. He, however, said he could not definitely say what his chances for recovery are under forty-eight hours.

When the cases of the men giving the names of Harris and Gantt were called in the police court today Justice W. S. Snow after hearing the testimoney held both for the action of the grand jury and fixed their bond at $500. They were remanded in default of bond. Julius Wolf testified that he was aroused by a noise in his store, he living in an apartment directly above the store. He called the police and they responded promptly and he unlocked the front door and permitted Sergt. Wilkinson to enter and Sergt. Campbell and Policeman Bell remained in the rear of the store.

The forms of two men Sergt. Wilkinson said could be seen in the rear of the store and they made a hasty exit and he followed. Entering the yard the man giving the name of Smith endeavored to scale a fence about eight feet high and Police Sergt. Campbell fired three times and Police Sergt. Wilkinson said he fired one time. Smith cried: "You got me, Cap" and fell. The police at the same time nabbed Harris.

It was after midnight, however, when the man giving the name of Gantt was captured by Policeman Shelings and Nowland. He was found in a summer kitchen in the rear of the residence of Robert L. Myers, 111 1-2 North Pitt street, directly in the rear of Mr. Wolf's place of business. The lad was covered over with a quilt when Policeman Nowland covered him with his pistol. Robert Merchant helped the police in the search for the man.

According to Mr. Wolf entrance was effected by prying the iron bars from their brick socket in a window in the rear of the establishment. This work probably required the strength of all three men. In order to get into the yard back of the store they forced a big iron gate. The latter work, however, was not so difficult. The boys say that they have never before been in trouple. They also stated that they met in Washington yesterday and only came over to Alexandria at 9:45 o'clock last night, leaving on the 9.15 o'clock train. Nothing was missing from the store according to Mr. Wolf.

Photographer Fred Sandberg of the Washington Police Department came over to Alexandria today and took photographs and finger prints of the two men held at headquarters. The police were complimented on their speedy work in rounding up the men.

Attorney Charles Henry Smith has been retained to defend the men giving the names of John Harris and Oscar Gantt. Afterward Judge Moncure increased the bond of these men from $500 to $2500.

TO-DAY'S THOUGHT.

Heard melodies are sweet, but those unheard are sweeter; therefore, ye soft pipes, play on;—not to the sensual ear, but, more endear'd, pipe to the spirit ditties of no tone.

Keats.

Edgar Allan Poe.

The approaching celebration of the first centennial of the University of Virginia, next June, brings to the mind of every lover of literature the name of the most illustrious son of that far-famed institution. A name that is unique in the annals of letters. The name of Poe shines in the lofty firmament where dwell the favored of the Muses, alone, unapproachable. Not a massive constellation, like Shakespeare, or Homer, or Dante but an orb of the finest ray, flashing colors of softest iridescence; scintillant; intoxicant; that weave an irresistible spell about the human heart. Poe's poetry is the nearest approach to pure music. It appeals to the feeling rather than the intellect. Its compelling effect is due to the mystic depths it reveals in the dim beyond more than to the immediate message to the brain. The witchery of his verse has never been excelled. The cognitive faculties are lulled to soothful slumber and the mind dwells in a realm of illusory enchantment. He is a poet of the same lofty rank as Keats and Shelley. His verses are passionless; purity itself. His love for woman is sexless; of a sphere beyond this earthly existence. His ardor is comparable only to the transcendent attachment of a Dante for the Beatrice found only in the highest heavens.

It is for this and these that Poe is immortal among the world's poets.

It is seldom that a faculty, at once creative and imaginative, is allied to mathematics. Yet Poe, in his stories displayed powers supreme for logic and analysis. He is the creator of the modern short story. Gautier, De Maupassant, and others of the incomparable French School, caught their inspiration direct from the weird tales of Poe, and acknowledged their master. All the detective stories that have ever been written are founded on the unrivalled elucidation of mystery, the merciless deduction, the microscopic analysis, first given literary form by the American writer. Conan Doyle seems crude and immature when we compare his productions with those of his predecessor and protagonist.

As to Poe's life, it was a tragedy. Gifted with transcendent powers, he belonged to a higher sphere. Yet he was compelled to undergo the forms and formalities of this humdrum and prosaic world, the conditions of which were torture to his exquisite sensibilities. What wonder that a drop of alcohol was sufficient to unloose the slender and ethereal bond that ligatured his soul and body. What wonder that his subjective mind sought surcease of sorrow from the coarser workings of the objective. Only those who have understood the temperament of Poe, can understand and compassionate that poetic nature, so delicately attuned to the spirit ditties of no tone, unheard and unheeded by the grosser, sensual ear. Tragic his life, mournful his fate, when viewed by human standards.

Fitting, indeed, that the centennial of Poe's university should have the highest tribute, paid by the world's living poets, to the greatest of her sons.

Editor Daniels to Visit Denby As Newswriter

Josephus Daniels, editor of the Raleigh N. C., News and Observer, a Democratic daily newspaper, arrived in Washington yesterday on an assignment from his own newspaper.

Mr. Daniels, who has been out of practice in newspaper article writing for 8 years, says he is going to go around with some of the old Washington correspondents to see how the boys get the stuff to write about.

Last night Editor Daniels said that he thought the navy ought to be an interesting thing to write pieces about for his paper and yesterday morning he was going to horn in with the newspaper boys when they go to Secretary Denby's conference.

The new North Carolinian editor may ask Mr. Denby some pointed questions. He did not indicate what he might want to know from the new Secretary of the Navy, but a few questions suggested to him by some of the hard boiled hands at the business were these:

"Mr. Secretary, I see where an army officer, General Mitchell, says an army aviator can blow your ships out of the water. Do you think he can do it?"

"Mr. Secretary, are you going to keep up compulsory education for the boys of the navy? I think it's great stuff."

"Mr. Secretary, will you let me congratulate you for your wise decision in keeping the officers' wine mess abolished."

"Mr. Secretary, what are you going to do with that obstreperous Admiral Sims?"

Wanderer Must Hang For Killing Ragged Stranger

Chicago, March 19.—Carl O. Wanderer, confessed murderer of his child wife and her unborn babe, and a "ragged stranger," must hang for his crime. The jury sitting at his second trial, returned a death verdict yesterday afternoon and as showing the attitude of the public, men went through the streets, notifying all they met of the verdict. Without exception the news was hailed with demonstrations of joy.

Wanderer was on trial this time for the murder of the tramp he had engaged to stage a fake robbery of his wife and give him the opportunity to kill her. He made a thorough job of it by killing his dupe as soon as he had shot down his wife. Although he was on trial for killing this man, he was, in reality, on trial for the murder of his wife. That atrocious deed crept in to the testimony continually, despite the efforts of Wanderer's attorneys to confine the evidence to the killing of the 'poor boob," as Wanderer styled him.

In his previous trial for slaying his wife the jury let him off with a sentence of 25 years, which with allowances for good behavior, meant about 13 years, and always on the possibility that some pardon board or governor might still further reduce the term. This verdict brought forth a great storm of public indignation and the demand that Wanderer be again brought to trial was not to be denied.

The defense will ask for a new trial.

SPORTS

The Lee School girls basketball team, accompanied by a crowd of enthusiastic supporters, visited Manassas, last night and defeated the High School freshmen team by a score of 12 to 3. Both teams put up a good game but the superior floor work and accuracy of the little Alexandria team kept their opponents guessing throughout the entire contest. Marian Chilcott playing at forward for Lee School played exceptionally well, shooting five goals from the floor. Mary Finks the Lee School center played a brilliant game, keeping the ball in the Alexandria territory the greater part of the time. This game marks the close of a successful season for the Lee School girls they having played six games and lost but one.

With weather permissible, the Dreadnaughts will appear on Baggett's field tomorrow afternoon for their first official practice, and all candidates for the team are urged to turn out. The field is being improved and when completed, will be the best baseball grounds in the State.

On March 30, the "D's" stage an athletic carnival in the Opera House, and if you are looking for a show full of "pep" and a stage full of "spills" be there. Tickets for this show are limited in number, so get them now if you want to witness the highest class athletic exhibition ever staged in Alexandria.

HOW THE SMITH-TOWNER BILL

Mr. Editor,

Dear Sir.—I have been a reader of the Gazette for many years. It is among the first papers that I remember in my boyhood days, and I do not like to see it take the stand it has taken on the Smith-Towner bill.

This country has grown great by managing its own affairs in its own way. I do not believe that a United States officer is necessarily a better man than a State officer. I say down the Smith-Towner bill and let the State manage the schools. Don't put too much power in the central government. I am a States right man.

Yours truly, A. C. Wyckoff.

PALM SUNDAY

"Christ's Triumphal Entry into Jerusalem"

This is the subject of Dr. D. H. Martin's sermon at Trinity M. E. Church tomorrow night at 7.45 o'clock.

Dr. Martin will explain the meaning of the salutation and the significance of the crowds that preceded the Master in the streets and that followed after as applied to the nations of the world. He will also explain the Jew's idea of the Kingdom and the kind of a King came into the world to be, also the meaning of the Trumphal Entry as applied to the lives of individuals.

You are cordially invited to come and bring your friends.

comes for resuming our seats at the conference we shall bring forth a fully worked out plan for the payment of our war debt. It is absolutely necessary that we do something along this line, for the Allies ran aground with their annuities plan which now can never be realized. When the time comes we must be ready perhaps to make even further concessions than we did before."

Paris, March 19.—The French Government finally realizes that the Versailles treaty must be radically revised, particularly the reparations clauses, for the Allies—meaning the French troops as there are none available in sufficient numbers—must occupy all Germany.

This was intimated officially in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday when Premier Aristide Briand, continuing his explanation of the London conferences decisions, made the following grave statement, gazing steadily at the Right benches and weighing his words carefully:

"Very soon—sooner than I had expected—you will have to submit to you very grave steps which will become necessary for France to take.

"You will have full notice and ample time to examine my proposals before assuming the grave responsibilities of accepting or rejecting them.

Diplomatic experts conversant with the situation assert that Premier Briand's statement means that if, at the next Allied conference with Germany, following the settlement of the Upper Silesian plebiscite, Germany persists in rejecting the Allies' reparations bill, the Chamber must accept responsibility either for decreasing the amount of the indemnity or incur the responsibility for committing France to extensive military operations involving practically the occupation of all Germany and the collection of all available reparations by themselves.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear baby, HELEN J. VERNON, who departed this life three years ago today, March 19th, 1918

In a little snow white casket,
Resting all among the flowers,
Lies our little darling Helen,
Who such a little while was ours.
Tho uart not forgotten, dearest daughter,
Nor wilt thou ever be,
As long as life and memory last
We will remember thee.

BEER IS MEDICINE DAUGHERTY HOLDS

Definite announcement that former Attorney General Palmer's opinion permitting physicians to prescribe beer for medical purposes would stand unless Secretary Mellon should ask for a review, was made yesterday by Attorney General Daugherty. He reiterated that, except on request by the head of a department, the Department of Justice could not hand down reviews of its opinions.

In connection with the possible transfer of the prohibition enforcement bureau from the Treasury to the Department of Justice, the Attorney General was not seeking any additional authority, but would accept such responsibilities as Congress might place upon him.

Creation of a single intelligence department to do the investigation work of the government was advocated by Mr. Daugherty. Such a force, he said, would give the government a very efficient set of men, who could be assigned to the various departments as needed.

THE TEST THAT TELLS

Is the Test of Time. Many Alexandria People Have Made This Test

Years ago this Alexandria citizen told in a public statement, the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills. The statement is now confirmed—the testimony complete. Instances like this are numerous. They doubly prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills. Can any Alexandria reader demand more convincing proof? It's Alexandria testimony—it may be investigated.

Mrs. Milton Moor, 123 Duke St., gave the following statement on April 13, 1915: "Doan's Kidney Pills are one of our household remedies. I have used Doan's several times when I have had backache and general kidney disorder with very good results. I always recommend anything I know is good and I am sure Doan's are a fine remedy."

On March 14, 1919, Mrs. Moor added: "I praise Doan's Kidney Pills just the same as ever, for they have always been just as represented. If I have the least backache a few of Doan's are sure to give me relief."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Moor had Foster-Milburn Co.,

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Last Saturday the High School boys closed their basket ball season on the Armory high floor of Norfolk. Their defeat was not so deplorable considering their adversaries. The Southerners were trained down to the minute and put up a speedy, systematic game. Midkiff played a good floor game but could not ring the basket. Capt. Dreifus and Pettit, however, made the Norfolk fans lock up when they caged some of their difficult shots. The work of Dyson and Myers in guard was all that could have been expected. Final score 55 to 21.

Saturday afternoon the "Midgets" played and easily defeated the "Bennet Stars" in Manassas. Harberg played a good game for Alexandria, while Linn of Manassas scored most of the points for his team. Score 14 to 8.

Saturday night the "Beauties" met and defeated the High School Freshman in Manassas. This was an unusually hard fought game. The Manassasians held the lead the first half, but when the Alexandrians went back in the beginning of the second half Manassas didn't score again. Rammage played a dandy game. Score 9 to 4.

The High School Boys basket ball season ended last Saturday. This has been a most successful season. A. H. S., having won 11 games and lost 5 making a per centage of .687. A. H. S. has scored 410 points to its opponents 321.

This has been a remarkable season in that we have played a harder schedule than is usual. The crowning glory of the season was the defeat of the Dreadnaughts.

The second team has only been defeated once. The "Beauties" have been defeated twice but both times their opponents have been forced to use players much heavier than they. The Girls team plays two more games and their choir season will have been completed.

IDLE HOUR THEATRE

Hailed by critics as one of the greatest motion pictures ever produced, the Paramount Arteraft feature, produced by George Loane Tucker, "The Miracle Man," will be displayed at the Idle Hour Theatre today. It is the screen version of George M. Cohan's play that scored so emphatically on Broadway some years ago, and which in turn was based on Frank L. Packard's famous novel. No picture in recent months has had so much praise lavished upon it for the dramatic quality of its story, it keen characterization, and beautiful photography.

The story of "The Miracle Man" centers around an old patriarch of the hills who has gained a reputation for his power to heal the sick and crippled. To him come a band of unscrupulous crooks from the slums of New York—Tom Burke, their leader; Rose, The Frog, and the Dope—who have conceived the scheme of capitalizing the healer's gift and taking the money for themselves.

What follows is one of the most absorbing stories ever unfolded on the screen. In the hands of such talented players as Thomas Meighan, Elinor Fair, Betty Thompson, Lon Chaney, and W. Lawson Butt, the development of the chief characters under the influence of the deaf and blind patriarch is portrayed with admirable skill.

GIFT TO WILLIAM AND MARY COLLEGE

Williamsburg, Va., March 19.—A gift of two thousand dollars to the College of William and Mary for the establishment of a scholarship as a memorial to their father, Capt. John A. Coke, has been made by Mrs. Elsie Coke Flannagan, of Montclair, New Jersey, and John Archer Coke, Jr., of Richmond, Virginia, it was announced here yesterday. The donation was made as a gift to the William and Mary Endowment Fund, and is one of a series of scholarships which are being established at William and Mary by the descendants of Virginians who attended the college and held high place in the Councils of the Commonwealth and the Nation.

Captain John Archer Coke was a distinguished alumnus of William and Mary. He was graduated from the institution in 1860 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and immediately entered the Confederate army, in which he held a captaincy. He was wounded at Richmond. Later he practiced law in the capital. Captain Coke was a son of John Coke, of Williamsburg.

It is probable that more degrees were given the Coke family between 1800 and 1861 than any other family in the state. Four brothers of Captain Coke received degree from William and Mary, and one of them, Richard Coke, later became United States Senator from and Governor of Texas. Captain Octavius Coke, Captain Alexander Coke, and Surgeon George R. Coke also were William and Mary men who saw service in the Confederate Army.

John Coke, of Williamsburg, received his A. B. degree from William and Mary in 1839.

If you stepped into a New Series 5-passenger Paige Glenbrook without knowing its make or price and experienced its power, speed and general excellence in actual performance, we would be willing to make this prophecy:

After a single demonstration of its capabilities you would price the Glenbrook at five hundred dollars more than it costs.

That is because there are no existing standards by which the New Series Glenbrook can be compared. It has established its own standards.

There is only one way to prove such strong statements—to ride in the car.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

ANNOUNCEMENT!

Mr. Edsel B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company, gives out the following statement:

"The price of the FORDSON Tractor has been reduced from $790.00 to $625.00, effective immediately.

"This price change has been made possible through lower costs of materials and the fact that we are now located in our new Tractor Plant with greatly increased economic manufacturing facilities in immediate connection with our foundry and machine shops and large blast furnaces where iron is poured directly from the ore, giving us maximum efficiency with the power to reduce cost of production, and down comes the price in line with our policy to market our products at the lowest possible figure without in any way affecting our high standard of quality.

"We are particularly pleased in being able to bring about this big reduction in price at this time because the farmer needs all the help we can give him and this big cut in price will be the means of placing a valuable power unit within the reach of practically every one of them, not to mention industrial and commercial concerns which likewise have benefitted through its use and are already realizing, to a much greater extent, its value as a power and hauling unit. But particularly has the FORDSON Tractor proved a most valuable factor in the saving of farm labor, at the same time increasing the per acre crop yield as well as making possible a utilization of previously uncultivated land, to say nothing of removing no end of drudgery.

"There is no question that the use of machine power on the farm is the greatest advancement made in the development of agriculture, not only in money saving and money making results, as well as raising the standards of living on the farm to a much higher level, but because of its proved value in making every type of land more productive, and consequently our desire to place the FORDSON within the reach of all.

"THERE IS NO CHANGE IN THE PRESENT FORD CAR AND TRUCK PRICES, which are already at the lowest possible figure and now with rock bottom reached on the tractor price a further reduction in price of either the car, truck or tractor is out of the question; in fact, the big price cuts have been made in anticipation of continuous maximum production and increases may be necessary before long if a large volume of new business is not obtained. Therefore, present prices of Ford products cannot be guaranteed against possible increases."

Ask for the book "The Fordson at Work," which will be supplied free of cost. Let us demonstrate the value of the Fordson on your farm, in your factory, lumber yard, coal yard, or in any general hauling or power work you have to do and let us have your order for a Fordson.

NAVY WINE MESS BAN WILL NOT BE LIFTED

Washington, March 19.—Secretary Denby will not rescind former Secretary Daniels much discussed order abolishing the wine mess on board naval vessels. The Naval Secretary said today that, leaving navy prohibition out of consideration, he was heartily in accord with Mr. Daniels on the subject and that he did not believe a "corporal's guard" of naval officers could be found who would favor rescinding the Daniels order.

The new Secretary will concentrate his efforts as regards naval building for the present on completion of the 1916 program. He will not start consideration of another extensive building program until the 17 battleships and battle cruisers and scores of minor vessels of the 1916 bill still uncompleted are well on the way toward completion.

It was indicated at the Navy Department that the progress of disarmament discussions would have a great influence on the navy's future building program, but that in any event the department urged that the 1916 program be finished as soon as possible. At the present rate of building the last vessels of the big prewar program should be ready for service by 1923.

FOR THE GAZETTE'S LITTLE FOLKS

Una and the Woodland Knight

Paying no heed to her tears and entreaties, he placed her on his horse, and rode off with her till he came to a great forest.

Una was almost in despair, for there seemed no hope of any rescue. But suddenly there came a wonderful way of deliverance.

In the midst of the thick wood Lawless halted to rest. This forest was inhabited by numbers of strange wild creatures, quite untaught, almost savages. Hearing Una's cries for help, they came flocking up to see what was the matter. Their fierce, rough appearance so frightened Lawless that he jumped on to his horse and rode away as fast as he could.

When the wild wood-folk came up they found Una sitting desolate and alone. They were amazed at such a strange sight, and pitied her sad condition. They all stood astonished at her loveliness, and could not imagine how she had come there.

Una, for her part, was greatly terrified, not knowing whether some fresh danger awaited her. Half in fear, half in hope, she sat still in amazement. Seeing that she looked so sorrowful, the savages tried to show that they meant to be friendly. They smiled, and came forward gently, and kissed her feet. Then she guessed that their hearts were kind, and she arose fearlessly and went with them, no longer afraid of any evil.

Full of gladness, they led her along shouting and singing and dancing round her, and strewing all the ground with green branches, as if she had been a queen. Thus they brought her to their chief, old Sylvanus.

When Sylvanus saw her, like the rest he was astonished at her beauty, for he had never seen anything so fair. Her fame spread through the forest, and all the other dwellers in it came to look at her. The Hamadryads, who live in the trees, and the Naiades, who live in the flowing fountains, all come flocking to see her lovely face. As for the woodlanders, henceforth they thought no one on earth fair but Una.

Glad at such good fortune, Una was quite contented to please the simple folk. She stayed a long while with them, to gather strength after her many troubles. During this time she did her best to teach them, but the poor things were so ignorant, it was almost impossible to make them understand the difference between right and wrong.

It chanced one day that a noble knight came to the forest to seek his kindred who dwelt there. He had won much glory in wars abroad and distant lands were filled with his fame. He was honest, faithful, and true, though not very polished in manner, nor accustomed to a courtly life. His name was Sir Satyrane, He had been born and brought up in the forest, and his father had taught him nothing but to be utterly fearless. When he grew up, and could master everything in the forest, he went abroad to fight foreign foes, and his fame was soon carried through all lands. It was always his custom, after some time spent in labour and adventure, to return for a while to his native woods, and so it happened on this occasion that he came across Una.

The first time he saw her she was surrounded by the savages, whom she was trying to teach good and holy things. Sir Satyrane wondered at the wisdom which fell from her sweet lips, and when, later on, he saw her gentle and kindly deeds, he began to admire and love her. Although noble at heart, he had never had any one to teach him, but now he began to learn from Una faith and true religion.

SPURNED, MAN KILLS GIRL, SHOOTS HIMSELF

Rockford, Ill., March 19.—Arthur Bauscher, president of the Bauscher Brothers Company, florists, of Freeport, Ill., died here yesterday from a self inflicted bullet wound, and Miss Helen Wilson, of Rockford, died later from a wound in the head inflicted by Bauscher last night.

Miss Wilson recently obtained a divorce from her husband, and entered the employ of Bauscher, who it is said, had implored her to marry him Bauscher's wife died eighteen months ago, and he leaves two children, a boy of 5 and a girl of 7.

Miss Wilson, it is said, had been reconciled with her former husband and had planned to remarry him. Last night she left Freeport with her sister, Mrs. Ray Widholm, of Rockford, on an interurban car, which Bauscher also boarded.

She still refused to marry him, and as she stepped from the car at Rockford, Bauscher shot her through the temple and then fired a bullet through his brain.

ST. PATRICK, AN ITALIAN; ONE MAN FATALLY SHOT

Alamosa, Colorado, March 19.—J. H. Robinson, retired contractor, is wounded, probably fatally, and a warrant has been issued for the arrest of O. S. Galbreagh, prominent business man, as the result of a St. Patrick's Day altercation at South Forks yesterday.

According to reports to the Sheriff, Robertson entered the general store of Galbreagh wearing a green emblem in his buttonhole. A remark of a bystander that St. Patrick was an Italian and an ensuing argument in which Galbreagh is said to have participated, precipitated the shooting.

In the scramble following the shooting the stove was knocked over and the store caught fire. The village volunteer fire department extinguished the flames.

Galbreagh is president of the San Luis Livestock Association and the Galbreagh Lumber Company.

FRANCE WARNS BERLIN

Paris, March 19.—The French Ambassador in Berlin, Charles Laurent, has been instructed to inform the German government that France is aware of German troops on the frontier of Upper Silesia.

France will hold Germany to strict account if any of the troops cross into the plebiscite area, M. Laurent has been ordered to tell Germany, the French Government pointing out that the Allied troops are solely responsible for the maintenance of order in the region.

Ambassador Laurent was further instructed to protest formally to the German government against the presence of the troops on the frontier, and to advise Germany that responsibility for any disorders resulting from the concentration will be placed squarely on the shoulders of the German government.
